

EIBOR Rates

The Emirates Interbank Offered Rate (known as EIBOR) is the benchmark interest rate for lending between banks within the UAE, stated in UAE Dirhams (the UAE's national unit of currency).

The EIBOR is also the reference rate used by borrowers and lenders to conduct financial transactions in the UAE for loans such as mortgages, personal and car loans.

From the 15th of April, 2018, the Central Bank of the UAE will not be acting as the calculating agent of EIBOR. This role has been assigned to Thomson Reuters Ltd as per our Notice 2018/75 on "REGULATIONS REGARDING EMIRATES INTERBANK OFFERED RATE (EIBOR) SUBMISSIONS". We will continue publish the past historical data from October 2009, as well as the daily EIBOR fixings published from the date of application of these Regulations. Details for each daily fixing will be provided on the CBUAE website, consolidated per month for each quarter.
